Happy New Year

These are words with which we all greet each other after returning from our summer holidays. This year we did so knowing that we really need every bit of good news in a very shaky economy. And all of that thanks to our politicians!

We will however tackle the year in a positive mood, looking for the silver linings in every situation. It happens to be a year in which we plan to introduce interesting new products and ventures. So watch this space! More than once...
