

What's News?.....BPW Spare Parts Price List.... available online

The year 2017 is speeding on at amazing pace. With all the distractions on the political and economic front, it's hard to believe we are already in May...!

Talking about economic conditions, you will notice that we have reworked our Spare Parts Prices and the price list as such (which is now available on our website). Apart from the fact that we could reduce prices in general as a result of the stronger Rand (which will hopefully last for a while...), we also found that packaging parts into kits and sensible minimum quantities can also help contribute towards savings that can be passed on to our customers.

Next month, we plan to update you on some exiting product upgrades - to be introduced by June / July.

The planning for our customer event, the infamous "German Evening" has started. This year however, it will be hosted on 28th September (as opposed to mid-October) to coincide with the trade show (Automechanika / Future Road / Scalex) which will take place 27th - 30th September at the JHB Expo Centre, Nasrec. A reminder to "Save the Date" notice will be mailed to all customers shortly!

Mayday, Mayday!!!

Look out for the incredible special on bearings, brake and air suspension components for the month of May 2017 that BPW is running from next week.
