BPW Axles acquires a majority share in JMR Trailer Parts

BPW Axles (Pty) Ltd has acquired a majority stake in the JMR Trailer Parts Group as part of BPW's global strategy to expand its presence in the aftermarket. BPW distributes its spare parts in Southern Africa through a wide network of independent distributors, among which JMR Trailer Parts performs a major role. The objective of the acquisition is to assist in us focussing stronger on the "end user" or transport operator, as part of our intention to strengthen our Mobility Partnership with that very important part of our industry. BPW Axles goes SOLAR

The return of more power interruptions during the last year or so, spurred us on to consider our options and other alternatives. We argued that it is not only important to have security of electricity supply (which we manage with a Generator), but also to improve the efficiency of supply. We therefore invested in a Solar power system, generating sufficient electricity to operate the entire company on green energy from the sun!
